Diagnostic Determination Note

- DDN should be updated when a client presents with any changes in use/abuse that impact diagnostic criteria or are clinically significant.
- DDN's should reflect the current picture of the client/the most accurate account of their current treatment episode and programs should document all relevant symptoms, impairments, and timeframes, etc. Programs risk disallowance if DDN is updated without accurately reflecting updated information (i.e., client last used 1 year ago but diagnosis remains 'in partial remission')
- Do we need to update the DDN if client relapses?
 - There is no requirement that the DDN be updated if a client relapses. However, the program may consider updating the DDN if the relapse creates a clinically significant change in the client's diagnosis(es).
- What if the client has been clean for more than a year?
 - Documentation must clearly state the medical necessity as outlined in Title 22 CCR 51303: "health care services... which are reasonable and necessary to protect life, to prevent significant illness or significant disability, or to alleviate severe pain through diagnosis of treatment of disease, illness or injury are covered by the Medi-Cal program, subject to utilization controls... Such utilization controls shall take into account these diseases, illnesses or injuries which require preventative health services or treatment to prevent serious deterioration of health."
 - Document client specific potential risk factors for relapse (e.g., unstable living environment, physical and mental health issues, past behaviors, etc.)
- If the diagnosis(es) change and an updated DDN is drafted, programs will have 7 calendar days to update client's treatment plan, or at the next attended service if the client does not attend services in 7 calendar days. Treatment plans that are updated outside this timeline will be considered out of compliance and risk future disallowance.
